And John Gray, former chairman of the Planning Board, which revised and polished the draft presented to it by the subcommittee, was the one who seconded the motion. There was no discussion on the motion itself. As explained by town officials, the ordinance does not prohibit any sort of land use—as a zoning ordinance would.

Rather, it sets standards for some forms of land use-whether multi-unit residential, hostelry, commercial, or industrial. The town manager and the selectmen expressed their thanks to the members of the Planning Board and the ordinance drafting subcommittee for their diligent work in putting together the draft ordinance. # A success story in Bethel

The big news this week is that GAMM—the New Hampshire-based garment factory—will stay in Bethel.

Depressed with being flooded out in each of the two winters of its existence at the former Bethel Mall—on Cross Street—GAMM officials were determined not to stay in their present quarters for another

They were seriously looking at available quarters in Rumford. But, at the same time, they were loath to turn their backs on a good and loyal workforce in Bethel.

Enter the town manager and selectmen. These local officials worked with the GAMM officials to provide suitable new quarters for the operation—at the planned industrial park, at the airport.

GAMM was first lured to Bethel two years ago through the efforts of town officials and the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce. It is commendable that local authorities have been able to keep the garment factory operating in town. It means 60 jobs currently, plus the promise of over 100 jobs after the new, expanded plant begins operating.

That's good news for the local conomy-not because there's a lack of jobs, but because a garment factory provides a new ingredient in the local economy. While the wood-based industries and the tourism establishments have been fueling the local economy, developing a new sector in the local economy can do nothing but good for economic stability. It's worth noting that this is the first new factory to come to town since the 1950s, when Bethel Furniture Stock was built.

Congratulations to all those who made this new factory happen. As Selectmen Chairman Arlan Jodrey said, "It's been a real cooperative effort." Which is as it should be.

To the Editor:

The 157th Infantry Association is making a concentrated effort to locate all former members of the 157th Infantry Regiment and the 158th Field Artillery. These units were part of the 45th Infantry Division during World War II, and had an outstanding record of combat while fighting in Sicily, Italy, France, and Germany.

The Association conducts an annual reunion and a quarterly newsletter is sent to each member.

If any of your readers served, or know of anyone who served with either of these units, please contact Ralph W. Fink, 19 Williamsburg, Hershey, Pa. 17033; phone: 717/533-5482.

Especially being sought is Allan L. Shepard who is known to have lived in Bryant Pond many years ago. Perhaps a relative or friend can give us information as to his current whereabouts. R.W. Fink

REMEMBERING NED HASTINGS

My first recollection of Ned Hastings was in August 1070 when I spoke to a meeting of the Bethel Historical Society on sources and uses of local history. I was a graduate student in history at the time and had just passed my comprehensive examinations as the final stage prior to the doctoral dissertation. Ned asked me about this experience following the meeting and we compared "compared notes" concerning his similar experience some years earlier when he studied literature at Harvard. Ned knew my grandmother, Edith Howe, who had been a regular visitor at the Hastings homestead on Broad Street, so he was aware (as I was not until then) that I was a descendant of John Hastings (1796-1859), village blacksmith and first treasurer of Gould Academy, who built his house. He invited me to visit which I did two weeks later: I was impressed with the level of interest the house possessed and how very proud he was of

I did not see Ned again until I came to the Dr. Moses Mason House in the summer of 1974. From that time on, I was a regular visitor at the Hastings Homestead and he visited the society headquarters on a daily basis when he was in Nazarene endeavors to provide a place ed every subject from music to books. He was a keen observed of the Bethel scene and kept up with all the daily happenings in Bethel. He brought a great sense of humor to all we discussed and I will always fondly remember those pleasant times sitting on the front porch or in the parlor talking with Ned. Always there was music for which I was an enthusiast and he was a highly talented performer and supremely sophistictated listener.

Then there was those hilarious moments that Ned never tired of telling-the time in 1974 when he took a memorable ride in his grandmother's best carriage uo Broad Street pulled bysome runaway horses, or the trip to pick up the Estey organ in Gilead, or the sudden visit by a partridge to the house last fall. There were adventures at the old swimming hole at the Covered Bridge on Sunday River (one of Ned's favorite spots), the visits to my parents in East Bethel, or the time all the nudists decided to gather on his side lawn. There were so many laughs and Ned enjoyed them.

Ned was a teacher who from all reports was highly respected by his students, many of whom stayed in touch with him long after their college years. Several called me during his last months for news. I could not help but be greatly impressed by their level of devotion. He was also greatly admired by his colleagues at Curry College and by the congregations who were privileged to hear his music each Sunday. He was a superb organist and also excelled at the piano.

He also composed for the organ as well. Ned was a devoted member of the Bethel Historical Society, always the popular host of the Sudbury Canada Days variety show. He was a general donor of artifacts when the Dr. Moses Mason House was being set up as a museum in 1974. He played a major role in the Indian Raid '81 festivities. He also helped the society in numerous ways from the playing the piano at monthly meetings to assisting with publications. It is on the latter score that I will particularly miss him. Many of the publications that the society has produced over the years are stronger because of his suggestions. He enjoyed his role as a trustee and was deeply pleased with the society's growth and achievements.

Ned was also an enthusiastic supporter of the Bethel Library, where he began as a patron when a little boy. He used the library often, assisted with the annual book sale for many years, and was proud of its progress.

We often talked about all the things that could happen in Bethel once he retired here. This was supposed to be in 1988 when he turned 65. It was not to be since in November 1985 he was diagnosed with lung cancer. At first the prognosis looked good and Ned experienced the best treatment that is possible. He wanted to get his retirement to Bethel so he left Curry in June of 1986 to come home to the family homestead. He lived just over a year here, but it was one with many valleys and few peaks. The cancer spread to his liver and finally to his brain. Yet he took all of the treatments and lived all the agony with remarkable courage. For me, the hardest part was seeing such a bright, articulate and cultured person decline so fast, particularly during that last month, Still there were periods when the "old" Ned came through almost to the end. It must have been hard for him to muster all of his intellectual power to turn a phrase or come up with a quip.

Ned died peacefully on Aug. 10. All of us who knew him, were relieved that he did not linger on and on, a possibility that worried Ned. He lasted but 13 days in the hospital and then was buried in his beloved Woodland Cemetery amidst all his ancestors. It is clear that Bethel has lost a "treasure" and all of us who knew him a remarkable and valued friend. Stanley Russell Howe

Rotary Club notes Mary Gillies, of Gillies Realty, was the guest speaker at the Bethel Rotary Club's Tuesday breakfast meeting at Martha's Restaurant this week. She told the Rotarians that the biggest drawback in the local real estate market is the fact that prices are going up faster than is the local population's ability to afford those prices. When there's a changed use, such as the Bethel area becoming more of an area of recreation homes, "There's an uncomfortable transition where people who were there originally are pushed out," she said.

What is needed is for a developer to step forward and join forces with a banker and a real estate broker and out together a development of small, energyefficient houses that the average working family can afford.

She pointed out that the price of homes in the Bethel area is not high compared to statewide averages, but it is much higher than it was just a few short years

She told the Rotarians that there is no sign of slackening demand for recreational housing in the area. "The demand has not diminished. The people in Boston and Providence have the money and find Maine a bargain." She said Portland residents are also increasingly looking to western Maine as a place for recreation homes.

She said the hottest segments of the current market are homes selling for $80,000 or less-of which there aren't. many-old farmhouses with some acreage, and shorefront cottages especially if they can be used as a cabin for a ski weekend as well).

She suggested that anyone looking to sell property should first get a good idea of what the property is worth. The best way of accomplishing this, she said, is to get a formal appraisal, or speak with an attorney or banker who deals with real estate sales, or with a real estate broker.

Children's Dance Theater GAMM first tenant of Bethel to open for 29th season Children's Dance Theater, under the direction of Susan Clement Farrar, has been in the area for over 28 years. It has presented The Nutcracker Ballet, Copellia and Sleeping Beauty as well as many well known folktales such as Snow White, Alice in Wonderland and Peter Pan, with Peter Pan actually flying. There are no ready made scripts for these folktales. They are adapted to movement by putting bits of music together from many sources to create a mood and interpret the story. This is an original idea of Director Farrar which sets it apart from the ordinary dance recital. Some of these productions have been purchased by Dance Congress of New York to be sold to dance studios around the country. Students represent a character and perform on stage in at least one complete act. This exposure gives the student confidence and polse which ultimately carries over into the

Ms. Farrar lived in New York City for seven years and in Boston for six where she studied with the finest teachers in the country. Her favorite ballet teacher was Russian ballerina, Madame Butsova. Other teachers were "Mr. Tap" Al Gilbert, Paul Draper, and Danny Hoctor. Jazz work with Glordano, Gennero and Bob Audy, with Audy taking too billing because of his lyrical jazz method which Ms. Farrar feels is more suitable for young people. Dr. Fishback takes special kudos in acrobatics. A medical doctor who claims the body is built so that anyone who wishes to work at it can do acrobatics. four of her children were born. Creative Movement offers the very young student a chance to learn the foundations of "natural dance" in an atmosphere of fun and purpose. Kinder Ballet is a program especially designed by Ms. Farrar over the years which is a fun way to learn movement using familiar nursery rhymes and songs. The Acro Mat and Parachute are used in both

The Combination Class, ballet, jazz tap, acrobatics, is offered to all others thereby giving the students an opportanity to choose their favorite later on. At age eight, Classical Barre and Center work is introduced in the Combination Class. This graceful art form require strict discipline, develops body awareness and a sense of ballet placement. A French vocabulary is used and underscores a strong base for Pointe work. After a full two years of classical ballet, at age 10. if enough strength in back, legs, and feet has developed, they may go on pointe if they wish. This year Ms. Farrar is introducing an all aerobatic class for children over seven, and a teen jazz class. There will also continue to be Aerobic Workout classes under the capable direction of Laurie Vogt, a certified instructor.

He also had praise for the town office. comparing its efficiency with that of larger towns, such as Berlin and Rumford, with industrial development staffs. "We've been able to get things done faster here, without a big staff," he said. Board of Selectmen Chairman Arlan Jodrey lavished praise on Mr. Monier's operation. "We've had nothing but positive comments about GAMM since they came here," Mr. Jodrey said. He noted that the garment factory is a nonpolluting industry and provides good jobs for area residents. "No dust, dirt, smoke, and nothing going to the landfill," he commented.

Town Manager Rodney Lynch said the selectmen-in the face of offers from other towns, notably Rumford-worked hard to attract GAMM to the airport. "The Board of Selectmen wanted to ensure the business stayed in town, for job retention and job expansion."

And, he said, "It allows us to fulfill the goal of [having] an industrial park at the airport." He credited the Airport Advisory Committee and former Town Manager Norm Ness for having the vision to set up plans for such a park, "We're very pleased that it happened,"

Town officials have no idea about additional development at the industrial park, but local mill owner and pilot Bob Saunders said he is considering establishing a flight operations business at an industrial park lot on which he has

continued from Page One Kathleen Mersereau, Woodstock town manager, accepted the formal return of the former Woodstock Elementary School property to the town by Mrs. Hall, acting on behalf of the directors of the school district.

Dr. Card brought greetings and congratulations from the state of Maine on the successful completion of the building project. He said the new complex reflected both the pride of the citizenry in their schools and the confidence they have in their young people. Dr. Card said the children who enter kindergarten this fall will be members of the first high school class to graduate in the 21st century and he advised all to "Keep your feet on the ground, look toward the mountains, and reach for the stars." The dedication speaker, Eva C. Twitchell of Woodstock, an 11 year member of the SAD #44 Board of Directors, and currently chairman of its Buildings and Grounds Committee, said that the new structure was built with as few barriers as possible, making easier the free flow of information, both in and out. With this free flow of information, bridges would be built between the school and community, "Children are bridge builders," said Mrs. Twitchell.

The audience was entertained by several songs by Rick Charette, an "artist in residence" two years ago at the Woodstock Elementary School under the auspices of the"Ripple in the Pond"

The ceremonies concluded with the benediction by Silver Leamon, interim pastor of the Locke Mills Union Church. Prior to, and after the dedication the building was open for tours. Throughout the afternoon maximum use of the playground facilities was made by the youngsters attending, many of who will be the attending the school this year. Students in the kindergarten through grade 6 facility will attend their first classes in the building next Wednesday. Although the structure was designed for approximately 140 students, Principal Murphy says he would not be surprised to see an enrollment of 170 when the school year opens. In late May the SAD #44 board approved the leasing of a portable classroom to accommodate the unanticipated increase in projected enrollment and needs of the special # education program.

JERI BROOKS ATTENDING NATIONAL CONVENTION

OF LEGION AUXILIARY Jeri Brooks of Bethel is attending the American Legion Auxiliary's 67th annual National Convention Aug. 22-27 in San Antonio, Texas. Ms. Brooks is serving as Eastern Division National Vice President. She is a life member of Mundt-Allen Unit #81, and is currently its president. This week the Auxiliary is honoring Unit members from 50 states and will be presenting its prestigious Woman of the Year Award to U.S. Transportation Secretary Elizabeth Hanford Dole, wife of U.S. Senator Bob Dole of Kansas. At this convention the states' dinner entertainment features a chorus of 100 voices of young women 15 and 16 years of age who have been chosen by each state to present a patriotic musicale. The Auxiliary also presented media awards for outstanding coverage of "The Bicentennial of the U.S. Constitution" and programs "in the interest of youth." Representatives of the honored newspapers, radio and TV stations were flown to the convention site by the Auxiliary to accept the awards on Aug. 25. As part of the convention activities, the fourth annual Junior National Convention for junior members (under 18 years of age) was held on Saturday and The 1987 Humanitarian Award is being presented to Dr. Stanley Kiser. On Wednesday, Mrs. Barbara Bush. wife of the Vice President of the United States, will address the delegates.

THIS WEEK AT THE Moses Mason House

All members and friends of the Bethel Historical Society are reminded that the society's annual meeting will be held on Thursday, Sept. 3, in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House, beginning at 7:30 p.m. A slate of officers for the ensuing year as well as nominations to fill three seats on the board of trustees will be proposed by the pominating committee consisting of Helen Morton, Maxine Brown and Donald G. Bennett. A 6:30 potluck supper will precede the meeting. Anyone attending the supper is requested to bring a dessert, a hot dish or a salad. A highlight of this meeting will be the first presentaion of the Marjorie MacArthur Noll Volunteer Service Award, which was established last year by the board of trustees in memory of one of the society's outstanding volunteers.

The speaker of the evening will be Dr.

Arthur M. Johnson, chairman, Maine Commission to Commemorate the Bicentennial of the United States Constitution, who will speak on the topic, "The Constitution and the Economy." A distinguished economic historian, Dr. Johnson was born in Waltham, Mass., in 1921. He received his B.S. from Harvard University in 1944, and his M.A. from Harvard in 1948. In 1954, he was awarded a Ph.D. from Vanderbilt University. He taught history at the United States Naval Academy and at Harvard before becoming the A.&A. Bird Professor of History at the University of Maine in 1971. Later he was chairman of the Department of History at the University of Maine before becoming president of the Orono campus in 1984. He retired from that post last year. He is the author of numerous books and articles and is well-known for his expertise in economic history. A winner of the coveted Beveridge Award, he is also a former editor of the Business History Review." This meeting will officially observe the bicentennial of the United States Constitution by the society. The constitution was presented to the public for the first time in September 1787 and Dr. Johnson's presentation should provide some illuminating insights into the economic impact of that cherished document. Anyone wishing to attend this meeting is cordially invited to do so.

Mrs. Esther Davis, Lorraine Nowlin and Olive Davis went for a ride Tuesday to see Esther's sister, brother and relatives in and around Livermore. We ate a picnic lunch at Bretton's Pond. It was lovely and cool there on a 90 degree day. Then we called on Mr. and Mrs. Jim Whittemore at Livermore Falls. Next we went to call on a brother and wife, Don and Hazel Brown. At Fayette we visited a sister-in-law, Methy Brown. We called on Kenneth Pike. Sister Emily was away. We had a very pleasant day ariving at home at 4:45 pm.

Tuesday night a group of friends went to the Village Inn Restaurant for dinner, Esther Davis and daughters, Patricia Tibbetts, Lorraine Nowlin, and grandchildren, Diane Nowlin, Jackie Tibbetts, and friend, Mark, Geraldine Shorey joined them, coming up from Cumberland. After dinner they drove back to Oxford to Patricia Tibbetts' home and visited awhile before returning to their individual homes.

Sunday the 16th was a red letter day for Esther Davis. Her daughters, Patricia Tibbetts and Lorraine Nowlin, tendered a birthday party for their mother in honor of her 75th birthday which fell on July 17th. It was a complete surprise to her. This was held at the Franklin Grange Hall from 2 to 5. Lorraine took her mother out to dinner then brought her to the hall, a little after two. where all her friends and relatives were awaiting her. As she came in they all sang "Happy Birthday to You". The orchestra, Richard Felt, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bedard, Johnny Howe, Irving Cole, Elden Hathaway, Bertha Benoit, and Carl Brooks kept toes tingling, Chris Nowlin and Esther Davis had a dance.

There were guests from Fayette, East Wilton, Bethel, Locke Mills, Woodstock, West Paris, Norway, Yarmouth, Freeport, Cumberland, and California.

Patricia Packard Moore and daughters and Mary Packard Nissen from Fresno, Calif., Esther's cousins were present from far away. Buddy Packard and wife also, Nancy Vandenberg from Nashua, N.H., were there. John and Yvonne Nowlin, Connie Hindman from Bethel, and many others.

A beautiful birthday cake was made by Carolyn Bennett from Mechanic Falls. Carol Stowell tended the guest book and Joyce Hathaway tended the gift table and money tree.

The floral enter piece and Esther's corsage were from her daughters. Patricia and Lorraine, and their families. Joseph Stowell printed the guest napkins. The cake was served by Esther's grandchildren, Jackie and Neil Tibbetts and Diane Nowlin. The refreshments were from the members of Goodwill who brought bars, Tri Town, historical group, sandwiches, Willing Workers, chips, olives, and dips. The lunch was served buffet style. Patricia Tibbetts, Edith Deegan and Ethel Twitchell arranged the lunch. Torri Shorey assisted them and the grandchildren.

TWENTY FOUR AREA YOUNGSTERS turned out for an ATV safety workshop last Saturday at Ken Snow's property at Trap Corner—the former mud run. The workshop, sponsored by the Co-operative Extension Service and the ATVenture Club of Scarborough, covered pre-ride checks, turns, figure-8's, safe-riding practices, laws, environmental concerns, sharp turns, direction changes, riding on hills and riding over obstacles, Frank Wertheim, of the Extension Service, said he noticed a vast improvement in the riding skills of the participants by the end of the day. Instructors for the workshop were members of the ATVenture Club. The participants received certificates at the completion of the workshop, According to a new state law, young ATV riders need a certificate from such a workshop in order to be allowed to ride on land other than land of their family. What a grand and glorious week since I last wrote items. Eveline hasn't been out for a week, didn't need to go so stayed in and had good reading and helped Joe with the vegetables for the freezer, Joe bought an air conditioner for the bedroom and it is wonderful but I don't leave it running all night. Also have two fans so we survived. Didn't need to eat too much when hot:

Each week, this column will spotlight a different member of the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce. The purpose is to give some understanding about the various fields of endeavor of the Chamber members.

National Training Labs (NTL) is an institute made up of more than 300 faculty members committed to helping people understand how to assist groups and orgnizations to become high performing systems, through specially developed method of learning by experience in groups. NTL has offered summer programs in Bethel since 1947, and has been a member of the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce for many years. This summer over 1,600 people have come to Bethel to participate in more than 40 programs, most of which are one week in length. Originally based at Gould Academy, NTL acquired the Gehring House as a conference center in July of 1956, and in addition to their own conference complex, currently uses the Bethel Inn Conference Center and the private homes for lodging. NTL is an important part of the local business scene, publishing a booklet for participants entitled entitled "Where To Go, What To Do, in and around Bethel." Although participants are kept very busy during their labs, many find time to explore shops and restaurants in the area. Local residents may apply for scholarships to attend NTL programs, and are welcome at the morning Sunrise Seminar programs as well. Individual NTL members have been involved with the local community through adult education

The Maine 113th Legislature passed several new laws regulating bear hunt-

> hunt from a bait stand or blind of another without the owner's permission. Also effective on Sept. 29, and of interest to deer hunters as well as bear hunters, trees on another person's land may not be damaged or destroyed by inserting metallic or ceramic objects used in the construction of a ladder or observation stand. Other types of stands may not be erected without the written consent of the landowner, and such stands must be removed by the beginning of the 10th day following the close of the hunting season.

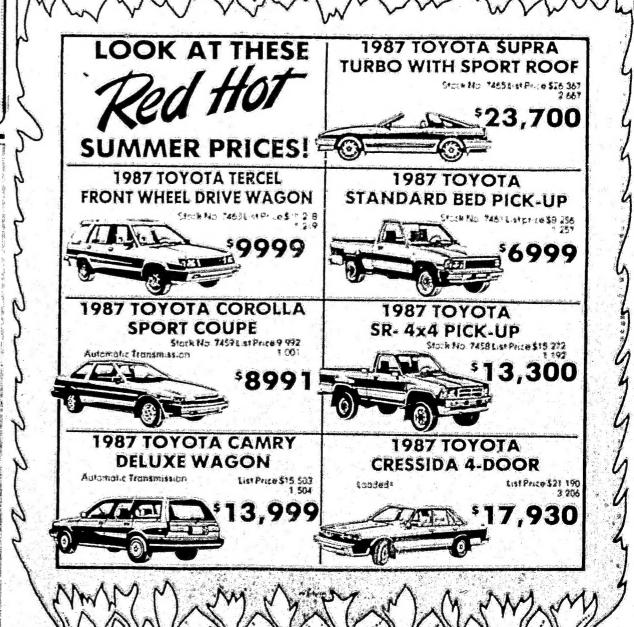

Beginning in 1988, it will be legal for Maine residents to train up to 4 dogs on is expected to abate as the wild berry and bear from Aug. 1 to Aug. 31, except in nut crops ripen and when the hunting Washington and Hancock counties. Also beginning in 1988, the open hunting season bear will begin on the Monday preceding Sept. 1.

As evidenced by numerous reports of bear sightings and bear problems in central and northern Maine this summer, Maine's wild bear population may be at a modern high. According to Wildlife Biologist John Hunt, the population is estimated at between 20,000 and 28,000 animals

Several bears which became nuisances around towns and campsites have had to be live-trapped and transported to remote areas. The nuisance bear problem is the first detachable quad chairlift at any ski resort in Maine or New Hamp-

Barker Mtn. double chairlift, travels

4,929 feet over the Agony Trail on a ver-skiers per hour will ascend at average speeds of 1,000 feet per minute reaching the summit of Barker Mtn. in 51/2 min-from the original double chairlift. The Sunday River Express represents 30 per-ski industry standard for measuring uphill lift capacity, Based on current capacity at other Maine and New Hamp-

By VIVA WHITMAN How nice it seemed to see a little rain along with the thunder shower last night. Just wish it could have kept on raining for several days as we need it so badly. I never saw the rivers any lower than they are now and it makes for a dangerous situation if fires break out, However, guess we have to take what comes and make the best of it and hope the Good Lord will provide the rain before long. We have had water enough so far and hope it continues but who knows. It takes a lot of water to can and freeze vegetables from the garden and even though it is dry, the garden seems to be producing pretty well. Of course we hope it will continue to do so.

If anyone likes hot, humid weather, they shouldn't have any complaints at all with what we have had lately. For myself, I could stand it to have the air a little drier. To each is own.

Last Thursday was a busy day as I made fudge for the refreshment table that they had at the variety show that night. Had an appointment with the doctor in the afternoon and took a few minutes to rest to be ready for the big night. Russell was the reader of our Cinderella Farce", as they called it. Pergy and I were the Ugly sisters. Bertha Benoit was Cinderella, Paul Billings was the Prince, and Richard Felt was the Reporter who found the gal the slipper fit. Carl Brooks did some sound effects for us and Lettle Brooks was the Fairy God Mother, not from Fairy Books, We did our best to make it fun for folks to watch and guess we succeded fairly well from the laughs we got. It was fun to do,

The whole program was very enjoyable and with eighteen door prozes given to the lucky number holders, it was an enjoyable evening. Lots of good music, yodeling which was great, musical instruments played and a little magic to make things turn out the best possible. We could have been there all night. All I can say is that it was great to see so many folks come and have a good time. Hope we can have another show as good in the near future some time.

Friday and a little cloudy but I washed anyway and it got dry. Russell wanted to know if I wanted to can some beets. I couldn't really say I felt like it but said bring them in and we'll take care of them so that is what we did. Had 15 pints when I got through. Russell and Peggy went to town to the doctors and got the groceries while I was working on the beets. While they were home and after I hot the beets canned; I made a chocolate cake to decorate for my daughter's birthday. I had asked her and the family to come to

Sure enough, hot and muggy on Saturday but the beans needed canning badly so Russell decided to pick them. He went and got broccoli first and I took care of it and then went out to pick a few beans. I can't get down on my knees so have to bend over and can't seem to stand that too long so picked the short row and Russell had started on the longer row by that time. I took what he had as well as what I had picked and started getting them ready for jars. Had to get that first canner full started as soon as possible as I knew there was going to be quite a few. Put up 32 pints before the day was over and gave some to Wendall and Viola as well. Peggy had gone to Auburn to help her daughter and husband with their yard sale so Russell and I did the job

As you can guess, Sunday was busy, Got things going early for my special dinner for Nonie, Mike and girls, Laura called and wanted Peggy to come give her a perm so away peggy went to help her. Nonle and family arrived shortly after 11 and things were pretty well ready for the dinner I had planned so I could visit down for a few minutes and bought one with them as well as serve dinner. It was a good day if I did get tired.

Monday and still hot and humid. Went to see the doctor in the morning. We had left Russell at the hospital in Norway for at the Co-op and during that time we had therapy on his back and arms to see if a little thunder shower. Didn't mind at it will help any. I had to wait and was all but wish it could have rained longer afraid Russell would have to wait for us than it did. to get back but they had kept him busy all the time we were gone. Got home and had lunch, then got ready to go to Lewiston where Russell had an appointment and I went to see a doctor in Auburn. Can't stay away from doctors at delicious andI make lots of them to have all. He is trying to get help for his eyes if anyone comes to call and I need and hasn't had any luck doing so as yet. Got home in time to get supper and rest for a few minutes before going to our regular meeting at Franklin Grange which was music night. It was an open meeting and had visitors with us. It was real good program with lots of good music by different ones. Always enjoy the music.

Did a little cooking Tuesday morning and Russell picked the wax beans up back ready to be taken care of. Got that done after lunch and had 16 pints. In the evening, Wendall came and Russell and I helped him pick the beans out front and let him have them. We have so many. Forgot to say that on Monday while in Auburn, we called on Myrna and Bernard White for a few minutes. We had a surprise on Tuesday morning when Verna Swan drove into the yard and said she had someone who wanted to see us. She had taken Herman Cole Sunday dinner and they had accepted so and Bekka to town to get groceries so wanted to get things underway as I ex- stopped on the way home. It was good to pected to be canning beans on Saturday. see Herman. We have wanted to get up but just haven't done it. It was nice of Verna to stop in so we could have a door

Wednesday was busy as well, watered all my plants and talked to them a little. They have to have attention as well as other things. Had three jars that didn't seal so did them over to seal them. Russell brought in some zucchini so I got busy and put up three quart containers for casseroles in the winter. He also brought in some broccoli so put up five quart containers of that. There were zucchini and summer sqaushes ready to make a casserole so proceeded to make one for lunch. Peggy had left early in the morning to go find her friend in Sweden and then go to York Harbor to visit one of the ladies she waits on at the Hillsboro Club during the winter. They sure had a good day for it. After lunch, Russell had another appointment for therapy so I drove him down for that. While he was there, I went and did a little shopping and came back when he was done to take him for another appointment for a back treatment. We do keep busy. Went to the Co-op to pick up something for my sister, got medication and came home. Grace came of my African Violets and visited for a few minutes. Laura and Bernard Hutchins of East Andover came in the evening to get the yeast I had picked up for her

Now I have this written and guess what? There are more zucchini to take care of so will be busy for a while as I plan to chop it up and have it for making zucchini and carrot cakes. They are something for desert, they are just the thing to pull out of the freezer to serve. Nothing like being prepared for company. Guess by the sound they are ready so will say so long for this time. Have a good weekend and we hope it won't be so humid and that we soon get the water we need so badly.

THOUGHTS FROM THE

Pastor's Study

The Bethel Area Clergy Association, with the help of pastors of surrounding churches, is endeavoring to bring frequently to you these meditations. Not based on any set theme, they will be individual for each pastor. It is hoped you will find in these words, comfort and help for your daily life. We can look back over the span of centuries, by reading through the books of our Holy Bible.

From the time of Adam and Eve, through the life and death of Jesus Christ, on into the works of the apostles, in the founding of the Christian Church, are unfolding the stories of God and his relationship with you.

In Genesis 1:26 it reads, "And God said, let us make man in our image, after our likeness."

Thus God created man, created him in love and compassion—one to be obedient to his God, faithful and considerate to his

The stories of the old testament relate the experiences of men upon earth. They tell of the love, loyalty and faith of God's saints. They disclose the greed, lust and adulterous nature of many, also. The laws God handed down to Moses, were few and simple. Of course there were many regulations relating to the ceremonial requirements of his people. yet the ten basic laws were designed to separate wrong from right.

When we think of the laws of man that gods out of their lives. are set up to furnish mankind as a whole, with protection of self and property we ran into volumes of books with many complicated and sometimes conflicting regulations. This perhaps shows us the simplicity of God.

God was credited with being meek, gracious and merciful. But he also is a poweful God, a God to be feared, a God to be respected.

people, brought about by God in his at-fear of destruction? tempt to show his attitude toward those that failed Him and his favors to them promise?

In the second chapter of Isaiah 5:10 it reads: "Enter into the rock, and hid thee in the dust, for fear of the Lord, and for the glory of his majesty."

Yes, fear God, but yield to his majesty, respect his authority as well as to fear design to be like himself, a creature of his power or his vengeance. The same prophet in 4:10 says, "Fear thou not for I am with thee, be not dismayed, for I am thy God."

In chapter two we are instructed to hide in fear from the Lord. The same prophet again in 41:10 gives the word of God as fear thou not.

But note the rest of God's word in 41:10: "For I am thy God." Is he your He is willing. Are you? In Joshua 24, he tells the children of Israel to fear the Lord, to serve him, in sincerity and in truth and put all other And goes on the say, if they do not want to serve God, to choose then, whom shall
